Dear Friends,

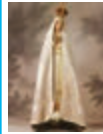

Here we are back in “Ordinary Time” of our liturgical year. This title is a bit misleading, since spiritually there is nothing ordinary when worshipping God and celebrating the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. These are extraordinary realities, indeed! What the title points out is simply that we are not in one of the unique liturgical seasons, that of Advent, Christmas, Lent or Easter. So in this “Ordinary Time” we continue to experience the extraordinary graces and blessings of salvation from our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ! May we grow daily in every virtue and grace by responding to the inspirations of the Holy Spirit and surrendering our wills to our loving and merciful Father!

Our Gospel this weekend focuses our attention on the testimony of John the Baptist, certainly a prophet and an evangelizer, the one who announces the greatest of news: that the Son of God has come into the world. We are recipients not only of this announcement but of the full Gospel that Jesus is the savior and redeemer of the world. As the prophet Isaiah (our first reading) makes known, Jesus is the one of whom the Father says, “I will make you a light to the nations, that my salvation may reach to the ends of the earth.”

In this year of 2017, you and I are called as disciples to make Jesus known by our life: our words, thoughts and deeds. The Gospel has gone to all the corners of the world but we must ask ourselves if the fullness of the Gospel has gone into every corner of our hearts and souls. We are the gate keeper to our hearts and souls. Jesus knocks and seeks entrance into our very depths. But it is up to us to open ourselves to Him, to invite Him in, spend quiet time with Him, listen to Him and allow Him to empower us to do all that the Father asks of us. When we pray, “Here I am, Lord; I come to do you will!” we must consciously take the steps to open ourselves to the Lord so that His grace can be effective upon us and through us.

In this world filled with so many shadows and so much darkness, Jesus is the only light that shines forth, overcoming the darkness. Let us not look around this world for the help that we need and the help this world needs. Let us allow the light of Jesus to shine upon us, within us and through us so that as passionate disciples we will joyfully bring Jesus and His light to one another and others.

God bless you, God love you,
Monsignor McCulken

For them I dwell in the Tabernacle as King of Mercy."
